Pray for the hearts of the incoming freshman class. Pray that their hearts would be softened to the grace of the Gospel. Pray that the Lord would lead staff and student leaders to their dorm rooms, class rooms, and tables at lunch time. Pray for life change.

Praise the Lord for the work He has prepared beforehand for us to do. Pray that we walk in His truths and that the Holy Spirit would fill us with His strength and wisdom. Pray we proclaim Him to all we meet.

Continue to pray for our personal ministry as we work to finish our financial needs. Pray for focus in this area of our ministry among the busiest time of year. The Lord has provided much for us this summer. We praise Him in His good timing.

Prayers & Praise

The beginning of the year is here. We've been prepping and planning for three weeks, and we are anxiously awaiting the arrival of the freshmen class tomorrow morning. We're so excited to see how God will move.

September 1, 2012

Our staff team came together three weeks ago, along with six first-year interns. We are praising the Lord for His provision to continue to provide laborers in central Wisconsin. On our first day together as a team we ventured 30-60 feet up in the air on a high ropes course. We were challenged to overcome our fears, and work together to maneuver our way across the course. Needless to say - we bonded quickly.

In our final few days of our first week together, we planned our Fall Leadership Gear Up. This is a two-day conference specifically for our student leaders. This time together is so vital because it allows the student leaders to reconnect after a summer apart, receive vision for the fall and where we want to trust God, and empowers them to own the role of "leader" the Lord placed before them. Erick had an opportunity to lead us in worship, and Courtney shared her heart of "Courageous Leadership" with the students. Go check out our web site -- erickandcourtney.com -- to read more about our time with our leaders.

We are now about to start our marathon of a week with the kick-off event of the year on Sept. 3. It is our 11th annual Volleyball Blast. Each year, the Volleyball Blast brings out more than 60 teams made up of 6-10 students each to compete in a Volleyball tournament. It is one of our largest events of the year, and it allows us to reach out to the freshmen class, get to know them, and invite them into a community with Cru.

We will continue to reach students by doing spiritual interest surveys (Dinnerline Surveys), which then allows us to call and follow-up to share the Gospel and invite them to a Bible study in their dorm. We'll also be passing out cups and cans of soda in front of each dorm before our first Cru meeting of the year on Thursday. Nearly 500 students attend our first meeting. Students have another opportunity to learn more about Jesus and how they can grow in their relationship with Him. Be praying for us, our team and our student leaders this week as we meet new students and trust the Lord to lead us into Gospel conversations.
